Maxxis introduces the latest Maxxcross SX to the Maxxcross tire line. The Maxxcross SX was developed and tested for use in Supercross and motocross conditions, and features a newly developed soft rubber compound offering unrivaled traction in hard-packed conditions. The new lightweight carcass offers strength and greater rider feedback providing a total performance package. Maxxis is proud of this new product and is sure their riders will be delighted with the results as well. The new Maxxcross SX is further proof that Maxxis is taking performance to the next level.
